

Frying Oil Filtration and Treatment System

General Filtration's 'Lowland' mobile filter unit (previously 'Lowboy') is a compact modular and portable frying oil filtration system designed for the restaurant industry. During filtration, Low-Land removes crumbs and sediment from frying oil.

The Low-Land Oil Filtration System, combined with the use of MAGNESOL "Frying Oil Saver" Filter Powder, maximizes frying oil life by removing crumbs, sediment, and soluble impurities that causes off-flavors and odors in frying oil. With sizes of either 60 or 95 lbs, the tank can be selected to suit the size of the fryers on-site and can be conveniently stored after filtration and treatment.

Advantages

- Dual action oil purification: filter paper removes crumbs and particulate while added Magnesol removes soluble impurities
- High crumb loading capacity
- Durable tank with tough rubber snap on casters
- Assembled with several quick-disconnect components for easy operation, cleaning and storage
- Two tank sizes available to suit almost any fryer
- Certified for use in food-grade environments
